

Canadian Jesuits International
presents

The Humanitarian Response to the Syrian Crisis:
*Reflections from the region

Tuesday, December 1, 2015

7:00 – 8:30p.m.

Loretto College, 70 St. Mary Street*

*Walking distance from Bay and Museum subway stations

Paid parking available in nearby lots

Panelists:

Fouad Nakhla, SJ is a Jesuit priest from Syria, who has worked in Damascus with the Jesuit Refugee Service.

Loae Almously is from Syria, has worked with the Jesuit Refugee Service in Jordan, and came to Canada this year as a refugee.

Miriam Lopez-Villegas is the CJI International Programs Coordinator, with several years of experience in humanitarian work, including serving Syrian refugees in Lebanon and Jordan.

Question period will follow
Light Refreshments will be served

Moderator: Jenny Cafiso, CJI Director
RSVP: cji@jesuits.ca, or 416-465-1824

Co-sponsored by the Mary Ward Centre and JRS Canada

